Foxes

Foxes is situated on a headland overlooking the beautiful Treyarnon Bay. Nestling in half an acre of land, it offers stunning views of the Atlantic. There is direct access to the sandy bay which lies in an 'area of outstanding natural beauty' next to Constantine Bay.

Treyarnon Bay is one of the cleanest beaches in the South West with the water quality classified as 'excellent' by the Marine Conservation Society. The coastal path provides some of the most spectacular views in North Cornwall, making it ideal for walkers.
